Attitude to countries and assessment of the level of support for Ukraine

The most positive Ukrainians are towards Poland and assess its efforts to support Ukraine.

This is evidenced by the results of a survey of the urban population of Ukraine aged 18-60 years, which was conducted by Kantar Ukraine on March 12-13.

The least favorable, in addition to the aggressor country, Ukrainians relate to Belarus, Kazakhstan and China.

From the point of view of support for Ukraine, Poland, Britain and the United States give the highest marks Ukrainians.

The support of Britain and the United States on the diplomatic and military fronts is most noticeable for the male audience of Ukraine, but such estimates do not exceed 65%.

The average perceived protection of Canada is at 43%.

In addition, Ukrainians do not consider the support of France and Germany to be high. The assessment of their assistance to Ukraine is at a close level with Japan and Turkey.

The respondents are the worst at the level of support for China, because they believe that China acts independently in its own interests (37%), does not want to "quarrel" with the West (EU, USA, Canada, Japan) (19%), and also takes a neutral passive position (17%), in addition, 10% of respondents said that China acts as a partner of the Russian Federation or as an ally of the Russian Federation (6%).
